If you are thinking of producing giclee, fine art photographs, or décor, you should consider attending the DecorExpo 2006.

Décor Expo Atlanta 2006 is held September 8 through 10th, at the Georgia World Congress Center.

We have attended the Atlanta show in 2004 and 2005 and will be attending in 2006. Indeed this is a good way to meet FLAAR staff, especially the last two days.

This show is “trade only” but is appropriate for the following

- Artists
- Fine art photographers
- Museum staff
- Art gallery owners and staff
- Photo labs
- Print shop owners
- Sign shop owners who want to learn about giclee and décor
- Frame shops
- Interior designers
- Inkjet media manufacturers, distributors, resellers
- Inkjet printer manufacturers, distributors, resellers
- Ink manufacturers, distributors, resellers
- Finishing equipment manufacturers, distributors, resellers
- Industry consultants
- Photography distributors, resellers

We have created the following photo essay to show views of the show. We also have a separate report on the HP booth. It was more than a booth, it was an entire area, a whole new concept in giclee and décor. You can obtain the FLAAR Reports on this remarkable giclee area by going to any of our Inquiry-Survey Forms, fill out the form and request the “Art-DecorExpo HP Booth Atlanta 2006 report.” The official title is “Production of Giclee and Decor Prints for Print Shops and Fine Art.”
